Whom Are We Talking to in Taiwan?

- Users of CC-licensed Works
  - school teachers, students, independent video producers, etc.
- Creators interested in using CC licenses
  - bloggers, musicians, video makers, writers, etc.
- Collection holders, e.g., museums
  - they are not content creators and may not even be rights owners; photographers association, government agencies, etc.
Users of CC-licensed Works

CC Taiwan does the following:

• Explain the licenses: What one can do and cannot do with a CC-licensed work. How is this different from fair use?

• Show where to find and how to recognize CC-licensed works.

Frequently asked questions from users:

• What kinds of “protection” do they have?

• What is the definition of NonCommercial?
Creators Interested in CC Licenses

CC Taiwan does the following:

• Explain the licenses: What rights are they giving to others, and in what ways.
• Show how to label their works, and where to deposit their CC-licensed works. Need to work with content hosting service providers too.

Frequently asked questions from creators:
• What kinds of “protection” do they have?
• What are the “business models”?
Collection Holders, e.g., Museums

CC Taiwan does the following:
• Explain the licenses: What they need to do before releasing their collections under CC licenses.
• Show them other collection holders are already doing this: BBC creative archives, MIT OCW, etc.

Frequent questions from collection holders:
• What kinds of “protection” do they have?
• Will CC Taiwan still be here tomorrow?
Explain The Licenses

Make sure potential users of CC licenses understand the licenses:

• CC licenses are valid worldwide, perpetual and irrevocable.

• Rights owners can dual-license their works.

• CC Taiwan is not the one to resolve possible dispute between the licensor and the licensee.

The NonCommercial license element needs some explanation.

The “Protection” Question

• It is difficult to say: “CC Taiwan is not the one to resolve possible dispute between the licensor and the licensee.”

• Good: “There are court cases in Holland and Spain that ...”

• Better: “CC Taiwan is working with Taipei Bar Association on seminars on CC licenses. There will be lawyers knowledgeable about CC licenses in Taiwan soon.”

Working with Collection Holders

• Need to clear the rights before releasing the digitized collections to the public.

• Will produce tremendous impact but require tough decision process.

• Use an incremental, safety-first approach.

• May get your hands dirty very soon (study for them the associated legal issues, recommend which licenses to use, draft related agreement and contracts, etc.).
Will CC Taiwan Be Here Tomorrow?

• We are already lucky to be here today! :-)
  - Supported by Academia Sinica and the National Science Council of Taiwan, with grants from TIPO and Ministry of Education
• We are fortunate to work with great people:
  - Creation Commons HQ, CCi, iCommons, …
  - Artists groups, civil organizations, CC Garden, …
• It is a lot of work, but also a lot of fun!
• Sustainability is a general concern.
